Nylon Rider's Jacket by Gold Rush

The snow may be subsiding, but that doesn't mean a jacket isn't still in order. Go ahead and trade in your son's snow parka for something a bit more lightweight, not to mention bad-ass. Gold Rush's nylon rider's jacket ($50) will take your kid from breezy morning walks to evening rides in the Radio Flyer. With pockets everywhere, your rider on the storm will have plenty of storage space for matchbox cars, snacks, and of course, dead insects. Maddox Jolie-Pitt, eat your heart out. – Rebecca Woolf
